

TOP 10 REASONS ONGOING INTERACTIVE LEADER-LED TRAINING MAKES A LASTING IMPACT

Does the need for training ever end? This is the question business owners, human resource executives, and law firm leaders ask as they look for ways to protect against employment-related litigation. With extensive experience working across many industries, we can confidently state that the answer is a resounding no —best-in-class leaders who want to create a sustainable impact on financial performance and talent retention recognize recurring training creates lasting impact.

1 The law continues to change WORKPLACE REQUIREMENTS AND EXPECTATIONS.

Courts and administrative agencies see REGULAR TRAINING as a key element of LEGAL DEFENSES against workplace claims.

3 NON-MANAGERIAL employees are continuously being ON BOARDED.

Non-managerial employees become managers and need to understand best-in-class techniques to MANAGE THE LAW.

4

5 TRAINED WORKFORCES are more engaged and profitable.

Employers who continue to regularly train employees avoid COMMONLY-ASSERTED EMPLOYEE CLAIMS.

6

7 Employees see ongoing training as a key element of a PROGRESSIVE WORKPLACE.

Ongoing training helps to integrate personnel into a COHESIVE WHOLE.

8

9 Regular training can REDUCE ATTRITION of great employees and PROVIDE AN INCENTIVE for new employees to join an organization.

Ongoing training creates a DIVERSE AND INCLUSIVE workplace culture.
